Many Heroic Rescues.

Spokane, Wash., August 4.—Many acts of heroism are reported during the two and a half hour when Fernie, Wash., was like a seething furnace. W. T. Healy, of West Fernie, while crossing the traffic bridge over the Elk river, came upon a little girl lying face downward in the dust, and picking her up discovered that she was alive, and, putting her on his back, retraced his steps, and in some way reached the brick plant at the south end of West Fernie.

Charles Erickson, of West Fernie, a carpenter, found a young girl who had just risen from a sick bed sitting in the door of a cabin holding a small baby in her arms. The girl did not know what had become of her parents, and the fire was fast coming on the cabin. Erickson seized the girl, who was clothed only in a nightgown, under one arm, and the baby under the other, and carried them to the Great Northern tracks below the fire.

Two other little girls, who had lost their parents, were found by Erickson and carried to safety, after which he returned and found two old women in a cabin. One of the women refused to leave the house, and Erickson was compelled to take her out by force to save her life.

An old woman 90 years of age was carried by John Volume on his back from the Fort Steele Brewery, below town, to the Crow's Nest Coal Company's office, over a mile. The old woman pleaded to be left to the mercy of the flames, telling her rescuer to devote his time to saving more useful lives.

Praises Eve for Eating The Apple.

San Francisco, Aug. 5.—After a patient wait of some thousands of years, Eve, the mother of the race, was justified by her own sex yesterday and received praise for her conduct in regard to the much discussed apple. Dr. Jessica Peixotto, assistant professor of sociology at the state university, said the words of praise and was enthusiastically applauded by the women of the California Club.

"We have an instance of woman's position in life as far back as Genesis itself," said Dr. Peixotto, who was addressing the members of the club on woman's attitude toward the world and its work.

"In the story of the tree of knowledge Eve's conduct has long been called insufferably curious, rebellious and disobedient. But we of this day are beginning to put a new interpretation upon what Eve did and to feel that the tree of knowledge is well worth tasting. Eve took the initiative and ate of the fruit and ever since her position has been the same—that of reaching out for what would teach her something."

"There has been a big change since the days when women were the slaves of the world and merely cooked and worked and followed the men of their tribes. Now, on the contrary, we are beginning to let the other extreme gain a foothold. For instance, you are entirely, at leisure most of you, but does it ever occur to you that we women in this day actually have all the leisure that there is in the world. And to give it to us men must work day and night, and are too busy to read, to think, to eat and sleep because of it. This is half a woman's world, of course, but don't forget that it's half a man's world, too, and prepare to take a more earnest and responsible share in the work of the world."

DeWitt's Kidney and Bladder Pills will promptly relieve all Kidney and Bladder disorders. Sold and recommended by W. F. Creighton & Co.

Her "Millionaire" a Foreman.

Muskogee, Okla., Aug. 5.—Finding that the millionaire railroad man, to whom he thought his daughter was married, was only a section foreman, Count Louis Accassano, of Italy, took the young woman from her husband and started for his native land. Before he got away he was arrested by Sheriff Smith in Feleetka on a charge of kidnapping. After explaining the trouble he was allowed to go.

Count Accassano is a wealthy land owner and a government favorite in Italy. In 1904 he was sent by his government to Mexico to inspect the railways of the country.

In Monterey he and his daughter Ester met James Lalley, who represented himself as being a millionaire railroad man. Lalley wore good clothes, talked of his beautiful home, and when the count and his daughter returned to their home in Italy the girl corresponded with the supposed millionaire.

Lalley finally sent a letter to the girl, in which he asked her to become his wife. He also sent a note to the father asking him to consent to the marriage. The count and his daughter agreed to come to this country. Lalley met them in Dustin, Okla., and eloped with the girl.

The count learned that Lalley was a railroad section foreman, and he hastened to his son-in-law's shack. He found the bride in tears and pleading to be taken home.

ALEXANDRIA GAZETTE AND VIRGINIA ADVERTISER

WEDNESDAY EVENING. AUG. 5, 1908.

SENATOR W. B. ALLISON, the oldest United States senator in point of continuous service, died at his home in Dubuque, Iowa, yesterday afternoon. His death removes from the senate one of its most influential members. He was one of the three or four senators who by their long service, their attention to the laborious details of legislative work, have come to exercise leadership on the republican side of the upper house. He was by no means a great man but had a good business head which he used to advantange. Mr. Allison had been a senator for thirty-five years, a longer time than any other man has served in that body, and the men who shared with him the leadership of the senate rank closed to him in length of their services. He was a man of patient, industry, persistent in his attention to the routine of legislation; was practically always in his seat at the session of the senate, and his vote was sure to be recorded upon every important question, while no one worked harder than he in the committee room. Senator Allison's influence was patent in all matters of legislation, but he specialized in finance and as chairman of the appropriations committee he made his knowledge of government most effective. He was a strong party man, but a great man to adjust differences between his own side of the senate and the democrats or between different factions of his own party.

RETURNS from several provinces in the so-called republic of Panama show the election of Obaldia to have been unanimous. The presence of United States marines led to the withdrawal of the other candidate, and his supporters simply stayed away from the polls. It is thus that the great republic of the west teaches the lesson of self-government to the province which it amputated from Colombia in defiance of a treaty by which it was bound to maintain the integrity of that republic. The New York Tribune explained that the marines performed no function in the election except to assure order; that the Washington authorities did not care which candidate was elected, but were determined to have a peaceful election. But, adds the Philadelphia Record, the man whom the Washington authorities favored stayed in the race and the other man took himself out, from which the inference is that Obaldia would have used force against his rival and that would have constituted the disorder the marines were to prevent.

FOR the past three weeks the Washington health authorities have been conducting a crusade against unclean lunch rooms and hotels. They have invaded the kitchens of nearly every public eating place in the District of Columbia. Filthy conditions almost unbelievable were found in many of the so called first class restaurants. A number of proprietors have been arrested and fined, and others have been forced to quit business. All have been ordered to put their kitchens in proper condition if they wish to continue serving the public. Clubs and even boarding houses have not been exempt from the operations of the official microbe chasers.

AS STATED in the Gazette of that day Mr. Wyndham R. Meredith, of Richmond, president of the State Bar Association, now in session at Hot Springs, yesterday informed Mr. Taft that he would support him at the coming presidential election. Mr. Meredith took advantage of his position to gain a little cheap notoriety and that is all he accomplished. He has never voted for Mr. Bryan so his vote will be no loss to the democratic party, and it is more than probable that not a man in Virginia cares a continental whether he votes the republican ticket or not.

BRITISH COLUMBIA is mourning a disaster of enormous extent, the most serious forest fires it has ever experienced and among the most serious that have occurred on this continent, though many years ago there were fires in Minnesota and Michigan which destroyed several villages. Most of the population, however, escaped. The present fires have swept over the country very rapidly, so that there has been an appalling loss of life and thousands of people are homeless while the property loss will reach many million dollars.

THE summer exodus from this city is at its flood now and, during the past week, men and women, old and young, have been hieing themselves to the summer resorts, either at the sea shore or in the mountains or just going to the plain country. It is dollars to doughnuts that at least half of these city people would have been more comfortable at home and on their return will so express themselves.

GEN. LUKE WRIGHT, who has swallowed the republican hook, also swallowed the line and sinker. Although his veracity has been brought into question by the president in the Military Academy cadet dismissal case he states that whatever Mr. Roosevelt says is right. When men of mature age change their politics they need watching. Again everybody lies but Roosevelt.

THE eight cadets dismissed from West Point would be pleased to know just where they are "at." All information tendered will be regarded as strictly confidential.

From Washington.

[Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette.]

Washington, Aug. 5.

The first complaint against the proposed railroad freight rate advance was received at the Interstate Commerce Commission today, from nearly half a hundred grocers, merchants, jobbers and other business men in South Carolina, Florida, Alabama and Tennessee charging the existence of an illegal combination of railroad interests in the so-called southeastern freight association territory. The complaint specifically charges that a monster combine of railroads, banded together as the Southeastern Freight Association and the Mississippi Valley Southeastern Freight Association, and constituting in effect a single railroad system controlling every carrier 73 in all in the southeast, have taken advantage of the panic conditions of the early part of the year, and now, when the complainants aver normal conditions are restored, seek to force exorbitant rates under the guise of changed business conditions.

Major John H. Russell and the eleven men of the Marine Corps, who was bitten by a rabid dog, on the canal, twelve days ago, and who have been brought to the naval hospital here, to undergo the Pasteur treatment, are all doing nicely, according to a report by Medical Director Harmon, in charge of the hospital. He states that there are yet no symptoms of hydrophobia.

U. S. District Attorney Daniel W. Baker, of Washington, and a party of friends had a thrilling experience on Walnut Mountain, near Liberty, N. Y., when an automobile in which they were riding plunged into a ravine fifty feet deep. Mr. Baker and his friends were cut and bruised, but none of them seriously injured.

The American National Red Cross Association today sent $1,000 to Sir Wilfred Laurier, the Canadian premier, as its contribution in aid of the sufferers from the forest fires in British Columbia.

FREDERICKSBURG IS REALLY DRY.

At the hour of midnight last night all the saloons in Fredericksburg closed their doors for an indefinite period as a result of the local option election held May 5, the 90-day period in which they had to dispose of their stock having expired. For the past week the jug and bottle trade had been enormous. All of yesterday the town was filled with country people, who came especially for the purpose of laying in their supply. Considering the fact that it was the last day there was no disorder, and very few drunks.

Whither the saloons will open again in the near future rests with Judge John T. Goolrick, of the Corporation Court, who will render his decision in the test case on Thursday. It is the general opinion that the judge will decide in favor of the "drys." If he should decide in favor of the "wets," the opposing side will secure an injunction preventing the opening of the saloons until the case is decided by the Supreme Court of this state.

SENATOR ALLISON DEAD.

United States Senator W. B. Allison died at his home in Dubuque, Iowa, yesterday afternoon. The end came as a result of a serious sinking spell due to a prostatic enlargement complicated with kidney disease and during a period of unconsciousness which had lasted since Saturday afternoon.

Two weeks ago the senator left his home in Dubuque to escape the heat. He went to the home of Mrs. Fannie Stout, a friend of the family, living on the Asbury road, a few miles from town. For a few days his condition seemed to improve, but he later began to grow worse. Saturday morning the senator was brought back home.

News of the serious illness of the senator was kept from the public as much as possible, and his death came as a surprise to his friends.

Senator Allison had been a sufferer for a number of years. For the last two years he had required mechanical relief daily, and was regularly visited by physicians.

William Boyd Allison was born at Perry, Ohio, March 2, 1829. His early life was typical of the hardships and struggles that every pioneer farmer's boy had to endure three-quarters of a century ago. He was born in a rude log house, and when old enough was put to work on the farm, which his father was carving out of the wilderness. He attended school during the winter months, was educated at Western Reserve College; studied law and practiced until he removed to Iowa, and aided in organizating volunteers in the beginning of the civil war; was elected a representative in the Thirty-eight, Thirty-ninth, Fortieth and the Forty-first Congresses, and was elected to the United States Senate, to succeed James Harlan; took his seat March 4, 1873, and was re-elected in 1870, 1884, 1887, 1890, 1896, and 1902. His term of service would have expired March 3, 1909.

BOY RESCUED BY DOG.

A dog belonging to the family of Mr. and Mrs. James R. Clark, about two miles from Denton, Md., went to the rescue of Lee, their 12-year-old son, yesterday evening, who was being attacked by an infuriated bull, perhaps saving the child from instant death.

It was the milking hour and the little fellow had gone into the cattle pen. The bull sprang at him and knocked him down. The dog at once sprang upon the bull, and during the fierce fight which ensued between the bull and the dog the child escaped from the pen.

Dr. P. R. Fisher, of Denton, was summoned and attended to the injuries of the boy, who, though badly bruised about the body and having one rib broken from the attack of the vicious beast, will recover.

The bank at Austin, Nev., and the People's Bank at Union, S. C., have closed.

The loss of life is believed to have occurred in the mountains. Many frame houses were washed away and dozens of persons are missing. For the most part, the supposed victims are Mexicans.

Today's Telegraphic News

Abdul Hamid Attacked.

Geneva, Switzerland, Aug. 5.—Sultan Abdul Hamid was stabbed in the breast in his private apartments in the Yildiz Kiosk Monday night, by one of the minor officials of the palace, according to a telegram received here today from Constantinople by one of the leaders of the young Turkish government.

The message says that the only thing that saved the sultan's life was the coat of mail that he wore next to his body.

The guards, who quickly followed the assailant into the sultan's room, overpowered him and placed him under arrest. The young man tried to escape the guards but his movements were hindered by a bag of gold that he carried. It is believed that this gold was a bribe paid to him for his deed.

London, Aug. 5.—The reported attempt on the life of the sultan Monday night by a palace attache, is confirmed in messages received here today from Constantinople. The sultan alarmed at the continuing hatred of some of his subjects, has not appeared in public since Monday's attack. The armed generals are to be kept in constant attendence upon him and the sultan himself moves about the palace heavily armed. The agitation against the sultan is the work of the young Turks, who are dissatisfied with his work of reform. They insist that he is not sincere and that the new cabinet is made up of old fossils and conservatives, from whom no appreciable reform can be expected. The young Turks, also, say that the sultan has already violated the constitution in naming ministers of war and marine, he only having the right to appoint the grand vizier and the Sheih Ul Islam.

Earthquake Victims.

Constantine, Algeria, Aug. 5.—Following the earthquake that yesterday crushed out the lives of from 500 to 1,000 native Algerians in a score of towns, came a reign of terror today inaugurated by bandits, who in their attempts to loot the ruins, have begun butchering the defenseless inhabitants, including a number of helpless injured.

French troops, wherever available, have rushed to the defense of the quake victims and are shooting down the outlaws on sight.

Calls have been sent to French garrisons not included in the earthquake zone, to send soldiers to the stricken towns to hold in check the lawless elements.

In scores of towns throughout the province the dead are today being removed from the ruins of the quakes.

Almost without exception the victims are natives who lived in the poorly constructed quarters of the towns affected. In the substantially built houses but few deaths occurred.

Estimates of the total number of dead are constantly growing as new scenes of havoc are encountered.

Two hundred thousand natives are homeless with the problem of caring for them a serious one.

The suburbs of Constantine suffered greatly and when the ruins are cleared away, it is certain that many bodies will be found.

Reported Recall.

Constantinople Aug. 5.—It is reported here today that the sultan had recalled the Turkish Ambassador to Washington, Mehemed Ali Bey. It could not be confirmed, though it is generally accepted. Mehemed Ali Bey belongs to the old Turkish regime, all the members of which will probably be dismissed from public service before Abdul Hamid completes the reform of which he has started. Nothing is known as to who will succeed to the post at Washington.

Washington Aug. 5.—As for the report that he is to be recalled as Turkish minister to the United States, Mehemed Ali Bey, the Turkish Minister, said this morning he was uninformed.

There is, however, reason to believe that the report is correct, because, as stated in the Constantinople despatch, Mehemed Ali is affiliated with the old regime, which is now being thrown out of office by the sultan in response to the demand of the young Turkish party. At the State Department regret was expressed at the attempted assassination of the sultan although it was accompanied by the comment that in the present state of excitement at the Turkish capital, such an event might be regarded as almost inevitable.

Airship Destroyed.

Berlin, Aug. 5.—Count Zeppelin's projected 24 hour flight in his huge airship, was again interrupted this morning by the break-down of his motor near Stuttgart, which made it necessary for him to bring his airship to earth. The injury to the motor will require several hours to repair, making it impossible for the count to return to Fredrichshaffon within the prescribed time.

Stuttgart, Aug. 5.—Count Zeppelin's airship was completely destroyed this afternoon by an explosion of the motors. The aluminum framework was torn asunder, releasing the big gas bag, which disappeared in the clouds. Four of the workmen were seriously injured. Count Zeppelin escaped. The aluminum hull, torn and twisted beyond further use, is all that remains of the big airship.

Zeppelin was broken hearted over the catastrope and for a while broke down and wept. A message from Emperor William promising to contribute funds for a new and bigger airship, served to cheer up the count. He announced later that he would immediately begin the construction of a new airship.

Redding, Cal., Aug. 5.—A large portrait of General Robert E. Lee was presented recently by a southern lady to the Red Bluff High School, and the picture of the Confederate general was hung on the wall of one of the schoolrooms in a conspicuous place. The Grand Army post of the town took exception to this, and demanded that the picture come down. The school trustees arranged to meet a committee of the old soldiers Monday to hear their arguments. Captain Milburn, Major J. W. Barnett and Colonel C. K. Curtis were a committee appointed to demand that General Lee's picture be removed from the high school. The trustees met, elected a principal and dodged the issue by adjourning at noon and not keeping their appointment with the old soldiers. The trustees are reported as being unanimous in favor of letting General Lee's picture remain where it is.

Mr. Bryan.

Fairview, Lincoln, Neb., Aug. 5.—Ten thousand Bryan and Kern clubs will be formed in the so-called doubtful states, if the plans as approved by Mr. Bryan, are carried. The first steps have been taken. Mr. Bryan has been convinced that through the formation of clubs, he can enlist in the democracy, who many will this year cast their first vote for president. The candidate's speech of acceptance was printed today.

It is a little over 5,000 words in length, or less than one-third the length of Taft's speech. In explaining this, Bryan said he had only dealt with the subjects that were put directly up to him by Taft. He will leave most of the planks of the platform until a later date for discussion. Mr. Bryan has finally approved the plans for his notification next Wednesday. The managers are trying to bring Gov. Sheldon and the republican state officials among the guests. They have agreed to attend if possible. Manager Brown today sent an invitation to Senator LaFollette, of Wisconsin, asking him to attend the notification ceremonies. Mr. Bryan is watching the Iowa situation with great interest. It is believed by his friends that the death of Senator Allison will reopen the entire fight between the radicals and the "stand-patters" and the democrats will benefit thereby.

"Shall the people rule this country. This is the paramount issue of this campaign" declared Wm. J. Bryan, today, in discussing the speech which he will deliver in the capitol grounds here next Wednesday.

The British Columbia Fires.

Vancouver, B. C., Aug. 5.—With the financial damage by the great forest fire still placed at $3,000,000, to $10,000,000, the estimated number of dead has now dropped to 100 or 150, with probability favoring the latter number. At Fernie, 31 bodies have been dragged from the ruins. A full list will never be compiled, for many were drowned in the streams and others were burned to ashes. Reports that the town of Nichel where the flames have been fought off for days, has been burned, have just reached here. Stragglers from the burned districts are still coming to Fernie and Cranbrook where the relief sent by provincial and Dominion governments has been so well systemnized that fear of famine is practically past.

Later he heard a noise, and suddenly his door was pushed in and two men jumped against him. The Oklahoma man grappled with the men, at the same time calling for help. His call brought Policeman W. Farquhar, who arrested one of the men, an employe of the hotel, the other making his escape.

Mrs. Sutherland says she wished to die because of family difficulties. The dead man, she says, had accused her of infidelity. This she denied.

WASHINGTON MONUMENT ASSOCIATION.

Yesterday evening at 3:30 o'clock Capt. F. L. Claymaker, in the absence of President Smoot, called the lot owners of the new sub-division on Shooter's Hill together in Hill's Opera House and stated that the association had completed arrangements for the purchase of the property, amounting to a little ever 40 acres, of which about 20 acres were in the sub-division and 14 reserved for the park, proper, to be known as George Washington Park, and to form a practical part of the proposed monument to George Washington, and he stated also that four and a half acres which cover the site of Fort Ellsworth were reserved for the purpose of asking Congress to rebuild the fort and thus secure another point of interest and attraction for this community. He submitted a few restrictions on behalf of the association and stated that there were two plans of drawing, as published heretofore in the Gazette.

On motion a committee of three was appointed on nominations who later reported the names of Messrs. J. T. Johnson, J. Y. Williams, J. D. Normoyle, T. C. Smith, and Geo. D. Hopkins as the advisory committee of five to cooperate with the association in the development of the park.

Messrs. C. C. Leadbeater and J. H. Trimyer were appointed tellers to conduct the drawing.

It was decided to adopt a plan, by which the names of each lot purchaser was placed in one box and the numbers of the lots in another to be drawn, and the number corresponding to the name decided the location of the lot.

It was further decided that all the double corner lots should be placed in the box and if any party drawing the same did not care to pay for two lots that they should be relieved and allowed to draw later for a single lot.

After the drawing the meeting elected A. D. Brockett president of the lot owners' association, and J. Y. Williams, secretary-treasurer.

The following are the restrictions adopted by the meeting.

1st. A ten foot building line, back from the street.

2nd. No building to cost less than $2,000.

3rd. Every building whether single or double erected shall stand at least 2½ feet from the next building on both sides.

4th. No lot shall ever be sold, leased or rented or in any way conveyed to any person of African descent.

5th. Every purchaser shall pay to the association the cost of planting and purchasing one tree in front of their lots.

6th. No business or sales of any kind shall be conducted upon the lots so sold.

The resolutions caused considerable discussion of a friendly character and were finally adopted unanimously as amended.

The secretary desires to go on record as having opposed the sixth restriction.

Captain Slaymaker has been mistakenly reported as saying it was proposed to build a monument to Col. Ellsworth—the purpose of the association for which it is chartered is to build a monument to Washington.

The following is the result of the drawing:

TEACH THEM TO SHOOT.

A day or two ago word was sent to the station house that there was a mad dog in Summer's alley, between King and Prince streets on Pitt. One of the oldest officers was sent to the scene to dispatch the canine. He reached the alley and drawing his weapon fired with no effect. It is said he emptied his pistol and reloaded until he had used 10 bullets. Either he was using blanks or his aim was poor. After finding that the dog was still alvie the officer took his baton and ended the life of the offending animal. As this alley abuts the property of some of the largest taxpayers, the families grew very uneasy and were compelled to close the blinds for fear of a stray bullet finding its way to their residences. It almost seemed like the base of operation of the Fort Hunt maneuvers had been removed to this city. It would be an act of kindness on the City Council's part if they would allow the officers during their ten day's vacation to use at least five in target practice.

THE WAR GAME.

Making a dash into the heart of the enemy's stronghold, one section of Company A, First regiment, District of Columbia National Guard, swept into Fort Washington last night, theoretically blew up the power plant, surrounded the headquarters of Gen. Harries, then rushed the headquarters of Col. Ourand, commanding the supports, and made the colonel and his staff prisoners.

This was one of the most exciting features of the war game in which the District militiamen were last night engaged, and in which hosts of men and officers were theoretically killed, wounded, or drowned in the Potomac.

The war game has been in progress at Forts Washington and Hunt for over a week. Last night the firing of the guns could be distinctly heard in this city.

THE BALLOON.

Capt. Baldwin's dirigible balloon was given the first preliminary test flight yesterday evening about 6:30 o'clock. It was entirely successful. The machine rose from the middle of the parade ground at Fort Myer, Alexandria county, sailed through the air at a distance of some 200 feet for seven minutes, completely under the control of Captain Baldwin. It traveled with the wind and against the wind, as Captain Baldwin steered. The speed was perhaps 10 miles an hour. After satisfying himself that the machine was mechanically a success Captain Baldwin brought the airship back to the ground, alighting exactly on the spot whence he had risen. The balloon will sail again this evening.

POLICE COURT.

[Justice Julius Pelton presiding.]

Only one case required the attention of the police justice this morning. It was a fight between Mary Lawrence and Frances Dudley, both colored. They were fined $2.50 each.

M. B. Jackson has been cited to appear in Police Court tomorrow morning for allowing his horse to run at large. This is the horse which injured the son of Mr. A. Deavers.

THE WEATHER.

The mercury at 4 o'clock yesterday evening reached the 95 mark and the heat was intense till about 9 o'clock when a southerly breeze made conditions slightly more bearable. The temperature remains high, however, and at noon today the mercury registered 92°. At 2:30 o'clock this evening the skies became overcast and a light shower fell. At 3 o'clock the mercury had dropped to 84°.

PLEASURE PARTIES.

Mr. F. M. Hill and a party of friends will leave about Saturday on the schooner Ella Hill for a cruise on the Potomac river and the Chesapeake bay and its tributaries. The party will be gone about a month.

On the following Monday the Ramblers' Club will leave on the schooner Grapeshot, Capt. John Stanford, for 15 days on the lower Potomac.

AMUSEMENTS.

The two moving picture houses continue to collect crowds and exhibit shows well worth the price of admission. Tonight the Alexandria Amusement Company will have an entire change of pictures, all interesting.

At the Opera House the wooden shoe dancers will again hold forth and, as stated before, is a show well worth the money.

REPORTED HOLD UP.

Shirley Johnson, colored, reported at the station house this morning that he was held up on north Payne street, extended, last night by two colored men and robbed of $18. He says he had been drinking with the men and knows them by sight but does not know their names. The police have been instructed to look out for the men.

Hillman, vice president, Washington; Anthony Lulley, secretary-treasurer, Washington; Wolf & Rosenberg, counsel, Washington. The company was organized with a maximum capitalization of $250,000, to conduct "Harvey's restaurant at 11th street and Pennsylvania avenue, N. W., Washington.

SCHOOL BUILDINGS.

Mr. George Leigh, of Louisa, contractor for the new school building to be erected in this city, has arrived here and will at once commence work on that building. As heretofore stated he will employ all the Alexandria mechanics he can.

It is understood that another new school will soon be erected in Alexandria county, plans for which are now being prepared.

DOG WAGON AGAIN.

Having received assurance of enough money to resume operations the dog wagon started on its rounds this morning in charge of Officer Garvey. Richard Pines, colored, holds the reins and handles the net. It is hoped this trip will end the unlicensed dog trouble for the summer.

New York Stock Market.

New York, Aug. 5.—The stock market tone was strong to buoyant during the first hour with new tops for the year made again in a number of leading issues. The buying of these stocks was of an aggressive character. At noon arbitrage brokers said their sales exceeded their purchases by fully 30,000. The efforts of the room traders, added to the London selling, weakened the market to some extent.

A Bad Guess.

John Hawtrey was one of England's famous whipping schoolmasters. At Eton in autumn the small boys used to buy chestnuts and roast them in a shovel over the fire. One day a boy named F., who was a great favorite of Hawtrey's, had a lot of chestnuts and as a special favor was allowed to make use of the pupil room fire while the boys were all studying. Hawtrey was going in and out of the room while we were working, and on one occasion, coming in rather quietly, he caught sight of F. kneeling over the fire arranging his chestnuts. The boy's position was irresistible to any lover of the art of chastisement. Not seeing his face and supposing it was one of the other boys stealing the chestnuts, John Hawtrey quietly took his cane from his desk and, creeping forward on tiptoe, gave the wretched F. a most tremendous whack. The boy jumped up with a yell, his hands clapped behind him. Then the tutor saw who he was and said, embracing him:

"Oh, my poor boy! I am so sorry! I thought it was another boy stealing your chestnuts."

We, of course, were all delighted and roared with laughter.—London Graphic.

Danton and the Organ Grinders.

Paris has more than once made war on organ grinders. There, as here, they have their enemies and also their champions. The war, however, is an old one, and politicians had time to attend to it even at the height of the revolution.

No less a man than Danton then took the part of the musicians.

"Citizens," he cried from the tribunal, "I hear that an attempt is being made to prevent the organ grinders of Barbary from playing their tunes as usual. Do you think, then, that the streets of Paris are too gay? Have the people of Paris too many songs on their lips? One after another our liberties are being wrested from us. Leave us at least the liberty of listening to the organs of Barbary, of hearing from them our favorite songs and refrains."

Danton was guillotined for reasons with which this speech had nothing to do, but the oration containing these sentiments was the last that he had the opportunity of delivering as a member of the convention.—Westminster Gazette.

Hotel Accommodations In India.

All over the world Indian hotels have a bad name to any one who has been used to a moderate degree of comfort and good feeding. They are for the most part a disgrace. Why people should have to pay from 10 rupees to 25 rupees a day in the cold season and from 7 rupees to 12 rupees a day in the hot season without receiving comfort and good feeding seems at first difficult to answer. As a rule, the feeding is most inferior, badly served up, tablecloths and napkins frequently dirty, not to speak of the knives, forks, spoons and tumblers. Bedrooms are badly looked after, and unless one has a very smart bearer it is difficult to receive proper attention. All this should not be for such prices as people pay. In many third rate boarding houses in England one could get presumably as good as what is got in some of the so called first class hotels in Calcutta. —India Public Health.

The Artistic Poison.

Passing by other drugs, each of which has its own way of making people crazy, we come to what may be truly termed the artistic poison. This is, says Dr. William H. Thomson in Everybody's Magazine, the mescal button, which grows on a low cactus in the valley of the Rio Grande and fortunately is scarce and hard to get. Chewing this button causes the most gorgeously colored scenes to appear before the entranced vision, far surpassing, according to descriptions, the most magnificent sunsets. It would seem to be the drug for landscape painters, but unfortunately, whatever other things drugs do, they never increase efficiency. It was first discovered among the Kiowa tribe of Indians, who used it in their religious rites till missionaries induced the government to remove the Indians from where they could get it.

Lightning and Thunder.

By counting the number of seconds in the interval between lightning and thunder it is possible to figure approximately how far from the observer is the scene of the storm. Sound travels 1,100 feet a second, so multiply the number of seconds by 1,100, which will give the distance in feet from the point where the lightning flashed. For example, if ten seconds have elapsed the distance away will be 11,000 feet, or a little over two miles. It might be added that, as light and lightning travel so much faster than sound, if one survives after hearing the crashing peal he can be sure he is safe. Remembrance of this will dissipate terror.

No Cause to Be Discouraged.

Mr. Youngpop—My little girl is nearly two years old and hasn't learned to talk yet. Mr. Henpeckke—Don't let that worry you. My wife says she didn't begin to talk until she was nearly three, and now—

—Philadelphia Record.

Impostor and Malefactor.

Carlyle used to tell of an old Scotchwoman who, speaking to her family, said: "There's twa sons, baith doin' weel in Glasgie. T'ane's an impostor, and t'ither's a malefactor." It was found that she meant "upholsterer" and "manufacturer."

Good Intentions.

"The question is as to the intent of the law."

A Big Snowfall.

The heaviest fall of snow that ever took place in England occurred in 1615. The snow commenced falling on the 16th of January, 1615, and continued every day until the 12th of March following. It covered the earth to such a depth that passengers, both horse and foot, passed over gates, hedges and walls, which had been obliterated by the white sheet. On the 12th of March it began to decrease and so by little and little consumed and wasted away till the 28th of May.

A heavy fall occurred in Scotland in 1620, the snow falling thirteen days and nights with little or no intermission.

One of the heaviest falls on a single day occurred on the 21st of February, 1762, the snow in some places being from ten to twelve feet deep.

He Kept Count.

A famous animal trainer was talking to a reporter in New York. He said:

"The secret of animal training is gentleness. Nothing sudden or brusque must be done. An unexpected caress may anger an animal more than a kick in the ribs. Sudden, brusque, unexpected things never go, no matter how well they are meant. Once I was showing in Scotland. We trainers supped one night with a Scotch admirer. The old man was the soul of hospitality, but I admit I was rather startled when he leaned toward me and said:

"'Stick in, man Conklin, stick in. Yer frien' Coot's twa muffins aheid o' ye.'"

"Habilliments For Infants" is a sign in a clothing store in Boston. A western visitor, seeing it, stopped in amazement.

"What does that mean?" he asked his better acquainted fellow westerner.

"That?" said the other. "Oh, that is Boston dialect for kids' duds."—Housewife.

Dad (severely)—And look here, Ethel, you mustn't encourage that young man to stay so late every night. It's disgraceful. What does your mother say about it? Ethel—She says men haven't altered a bit, dad.

Remarkable Story

The story of Mrs. Matilda Warwick, of Kokomo, Ind., as told below, proves the curative properties of that well-known female remedy, Wine of Cardui. Mrs. Warwick says:

TAKE CARDUI

It Will Help You

"I suffered from pains in my head, shoulders, limbs, side, stomach low down, dizziness, chills, nervousness, fainting spells and other female troubles. I was almost dead. Three doctors did not help me. At last, I took Cardui, and with the first bottle obtained relief. Now I am cured. But for Cardui, I would have been dead." Try Cardui.
